

POLICY OF PRIVACY

FALCON SPILL ABSORBENTS is concerned about the privacy of its users and is committed to providing a secure environment for the free exchange of information.

Visitors need not register or give any personal identification to use this site. No software or hardware techniques are employed to capture a visitor's e-mail address or other personally identifiable information. We do not use "cookies" to track how you use our site.

Our web host does give us access to some statistics related to site usage. These statistics tell us the total number of hits, the total number of page hits, and the number of kilobytes transferred from our site, which simply indicates the size of the files visitors are accessing. These figures are broken down by week, day, hour and daily average. To maintain a high level of service, we also look at error data relating to site visits.

Our host also provides us the capability to get a breakdown of browsers used to access the site. We have never tracked this information, and have no plans to do so. Our policy is to not examine raw log files, and will do so only if we are hacked.

Where visitors choose to provide FALCON SPILL ABSORBENTS with a name, e-mail address or other information in order to receive additional information, all such response lists are confidential.

Personally-identifiable information will not be sold or rented to any other organization or entity unless the user is first notified and expressly agrees to it.

If you have any questions about these terms please contact us at webmaster@falconspillabsorbents.com
